
CENTERS FOR DISEASE CONTROL AND PREVENTION, “ADDRESSING EMERGING INFECTIOUS DISEASE THREATS TO HEALTH: A PREVENTION STRATEGY FOR THE UNITED STATES” (EXCERPTS)

Emerging infections pose a threat to human health and may pose new challenges for vaccine development. Improved surveillance for and response to emerging infections will contribute to achieving the National Vaccine Plan goals. Plans to address emerging infections have been developed by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.

* * *

CDC

Addressing Emerging Infectious Disease
Threats to Health

A Prevention Strategy
for the United States

DRAFT